

Adverbial Clauses Spanish Worksheet

Select Download Format:

Adverbs usually describe simply to how, when, where, how often, how much, how frequently, and so on. However, some adverbs can also describe the manner in which an action is performed. In this case, they are called adverbial clauses. Adverbial clauses can be used to describe the manner in which an action is performed. They can also be used to describe the time, place, or frequency of an action. Adverbial clauses are often used in complex sentences to provide more information about the main clause.
